FW: JMC News November 2013: Alumni Help Needed at Career Day

JMC E-newsletter

November 2013

JMC 11th Annual Alumni Career Day - Alumni Help Needed!
Saturday, February 15, 2014
Case Hall, MSU

We are in need of alumni to serve on the International/Cross-Cultural panel for the annual Career Day on February 15, 2014. If you are an alumna/nus working internationally, with multi-cultural clients, or global business, and can volunteer your time and expertise that day, please contact Jaimie Hutchison. This event is one of the largest events of the year (attracting over 150+ students and 40+ alumni), and is in collaboration with JMC Alumni Association, Student Senate and the Career Services Office.

We Appreciate Your Continued Generosity
Thank you for including James Madison College in your philanthropic giving. Private support from you is vital to advancing our excellence in undergraduate education. If you have not made a charitable contribution to JMC in 2013, or would like to make another, there is still time before December 31st. Please visit the MSU Gift Cart, JMC Website, or contact Rocky Beckett for options. We appreciate your financial support of our mission!

Alumni Fall Elections
Alumna Helen Rosenthal was elected to the New York City Council and alumnus Nathan Triplett was elected as mayor of the city of East Lansing. Congratulations to both of them. If you know of a Madison alum who was successful in an election this fall please send the information to Kim Allan.

MSU Debate and Madison students have successful fall season
Kaavya Ramesh (IR/Chinese/CCP senior) and Tyler Thur (IR sophomore) were the top-finishing, two-person team at the Wake Forest tournament in November. JMC's Jack Caporal, Quinn Zemel, and Aniela Butler also finished strong. In October, the Debate Team placed three two-person teams in the top 25 at the Harvard University tournament and had multiple successes.

Study Abroad Experience
In the video to the left, Madison student Justine Brunett talks about her study abroad trip to Tanzania, made possible by a Kolschowsky Scholarship. The six-week study abroad program titled "Sustainable Community Development" was part of the MSU Tanzania Partnership Program and led by MSU International Studies and Programs.

Tackling Global Challenges - Attacking The World's Biggest Problems
"Affordable Care Act" panel discussion
Held in October, organized by the JMC Student Senate and co-sponsored by the MSU College Democrats, MSU
Students for Choice, and MSU College Republicans.

Uniquely James Madison College
James Madison College at MSU offers sophisticated multidisciplinary programs in the social sciences founded on a model of liberal education and designed to prepare students for law school, graduate study, decision-making roles in public and private enterprise, and careers in government, media, politics, social services, public administration, education, business, and the foreign service. Students examine how public policy problems are identified, analyzed, and resolved in the US and globally. It is an unusual, exciting, innovative place where students and scholars examine and debate important public affairs issues.

Join us on:

Your gifts make a difference. Donate to JMC